

Ebara Group Code of Conduct

Introduction

The Ebara Group Code of Conduct sets the standard for directors and employees of the Ebara Group to exercise sound judgment, carry out their work, and take responsibility for their actions in compliance with laws and internal regulations, always maintaining a high standard of ethics and pride.

The spirit of “Netsu to Makoto” (Passion and Dedication) as expressed by our founder, Issey Hatakeyama, guides our everyday conduct. It states that employees should not merely perform the tasks assigned to them, but approach the work with full investment of their creativity and ingenuity, and carry out the tasks in all sincerity and integrity. This spirit also asserts that while collaborating with others, genuine passion and dedication will always be recognized and valued.

Embracing our founder’s ideals, we proudly strive to fulfill the Ebara Group mission to make contributions throughout society with our state-of-the-art technologies, products, and services.

In carrying out our work, we check our conduct against the five basic principles for action (see Appendix)
